TEXT OF AMERICAN DEMANDS SENT GERMANY MADE PUBLIC AT WASHINGTON EARLY TODAY

Note Expresses Confidence That Germany Will Disavow Acts Complained of.

AND MAKE REPARATION

Will Not Omit Any Word or Act Necessary to Maintain Rights of Our Citizens.

Acts Subversive to Principles of Warfare Must Stop.

Washington, May 13. — The United States government today cabled Ambassador Gerard, for presentation to the German government, a note calling attention "to the grave situation which has resulted" from violation of American rights on the high seas, culminating in the sinking of the Lusitania, with the loss of more than 100 American lives.

The communication expresses the confident expectation of the United States "that the Imperial German government will disavow the acts of which the government of the United States complains, that they will make reparation so far as reparation is possible for injuries which are without measure and that they will take immediate steps to prevent the recurrence of anything so obviously subversive of the principles of warfare for which the imperial German government in the past so wisely and so firmly contended."

Rights to Be Maintained.

In its conclusion, the note states that "the imperial German government will not expect the government of the United States to omit any word or any act necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States and its citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment."

The full text of the note was made public tonight by the State Department as follows:

"Department of State, Washington, May 13, 1915.

"The Secretary of State to the American ambassador at Berlin.

"Please call on the Minister of Foreign Affairs and after reading to him this communication, leave with him a copy.

"In view of recent acts of the German authorities in violation of American rights on the high seas which culminated in the torpedoing and sinking of the British steamship Lusitania on May 7, 1915, by which over 100 American citizens lost their lives, it is clearly wise and desirable that the government of the United States and the imperial German government should come to a clear and full understanding as to the grave situation which has resulted.

The Falaba Sinking.

"The sinking of the British steamer Falaba by a German submarine on March 28 through which Leon C. Thrasher, an American citizen, was drowned; the attack on April 29 on the American vessel Cushing by an aeroplane; the torpedoing on May 1 of the American vessel Gulflight by a German submarine, as a result of which two or more American citizens met their death, and, finally the torpedoing and sinking of the steamship Lusitania, constitute a series of events which the government of the United States has observed with growing concern, distress and amazement.

"Recalling the humane and enlightened attitude hitherto assumed by the imperial German government in matters of international right and particularly with regard to the freedom of the seas; having learned to recognize the German views and the German influence in the fold of international obligation as always engaged upon the side of justice and humanity; and having understood the instructions of the imperial German government to its naval commanders, to be upon the same plane of humane action prescribed by the naval codes of other nations, the government of the United States was loath to believe—it cannot now bring itself to believe—that these acts so absolutely contrary to the rules, the practices and the spirit of modern warfare, could have the countenance or sanction of that great government. It feels it to be its duty, therefore to address the imperial German government concerning them with the utmost frankness and in the earnest hope that it is not mistaken in expecting action on the part of the imperial German government which will correct the unfortunate impressions which have been created and vindicate once more the position of that government with regard to the sacred freedom of the seas.

Never Recognized War Zone.

"The government of the United States has been apprised that the imperial German government considered themselves to be obliged by the extraordinary circumstances of the pres-

HYPHENATED AMERICANS MUST SUPPORT STARS AND STRIPES

"Unworthy of the Citizenship He Owns," if Support is Lacking in the Present Situation, Says Dr. John Wesley Hill, at Banquet Given Delegates at the World Court Congress—Wild Applause Follows.

Cleveland, May 13.—Delegates to the World Court Congress burst into wild applause this afternoon when Dr. John Wesley Hill, of New York, in an impromptu speech, pointed dramatically to a huge American flag above his head and shouted:

"Any English-American, German-American, French-American, or other hyphenated American who does not support that flag in the present situation is unworthy of the citizenship he owns."

An orchestra in an alcove began the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the audience rose and joined in singing the song. Dr. Hill's declaration was not made at a regular session of the Congress, but at a dinner given by the business men of Cleveland to the delegates of the Congress. The Congress has forbidden comment on the war situation during its meetings.

John Hays Hammond, chairman of the Congress, today announced a commission of delegates to draw up a definite plan for a world court of justice. Its members are: James Brown Scott, Washington jurist; Theodore Marburg, Baltimore, former minister to Belgium; Henry Lane Wilson, ex-Ambassador to Mexico; Bainbridge Colby, New York, attorney; Judge D. D. Woodmansee, Cincinnati; Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks, New York. Mr. Hammond, by the ruling of the Congress, also is a member of the commission.

Henry Lane Wilson, Judge Woodmansee and William Dudley Foulke were the principal speakers at tonight's session.

Henry Lane Wilson Speaks.

Mr. Wilson gave his attention to the limitations and possibilities of a world court.

"The court must be a tribunal of spontaneous appeal," he said, "and behind every decree should lie the powers of the united signator nations in the form of an irresistible police power, or of an international ban, which is a more terrible weapon than fleets and armies.

"A world court should be international in its attributes. The unhappy consequences following the interference of this government in Mexico should serve as a warning. It frequently happens that governments from policy, caution or timidity, turn deaf ears to the just complaints of their nationals abroad. Shall such nationals have no recourse? Here lies an undoubted sphere for a world court."

Mr. Foulke declared that the "development of our national constitution and judiciary foreshadows in its general features the development of some coming federation of the United States with Europe or the world.

"It was at the outbreak of this war that the world found a number of great powers in alliance. It is at its conclusion that we may hope for a league of the powerful nations which will have for its purpose the maintenance of a permanent peace."

"If a court such as we propose had existed a year ago," said Judge Woodmansee, "Austria never would have made the demands she did upon Serbia. Austria's normal rights in the matter would have been quickly determined."

Tomorrow is the last day of the Congress. At the final meeting in the evening John Mitchell will be the principal speaker.

NEXT BAPTIST CONVENTION COMES TO NORTH CAROLINA

Asheville Chosen by Committee Appointed to Name Convention City—Efficiency Commission Recommends No Consolidation of Home and Foreign Mission Boards With Sunday School Board.

Houston, Texas, May 13.—The adoption of the report of the efficiency commission which recommended no consolidation of the Home Mission Board, the Foreign Mission Board and the Sunday School Board and the selection of Asheville, N. C., as the next convention place were the most important matters transacted at the second day's session today of the Southern Baptist Convention here. The convention will open in Asheville May 10, 1916.

Selection of the meeting place was made by a committee appointed for the purpose. While the convention will not act upon the recommendation until later in the week custom has made the committee's choice virtually final.

Asheville's selection was made unanimous after delegates from Lexington, Ky., withdrew their claim before the committee. The Rev. Dr. Charles W. Daniels, of Atlanta, was chosen to preach the introductory sermon at next year's meeting, with the Rev. Dr. S. J. Porter, of San Antonio, Texas, as alternate.

The debate on the adoption of the efficiency commission's report was at times almost stormy and caused leaders to say frankly they did not agree with the statement of J. F. Brownlow, of Columbia, Tenn., that the three important boards—Home Mission, Foreign Mission and Sunday School—cost too much in salaries paid its secretaries. Mr. Brownlow, a lay delegate, was the only speaker who opposed the manner in which these boards are conducted.

Millions for Dollars.

"Where we spend dollars on boards we get millions in return," said Dr. J. B. Cranfill, of Dallas, who added: "Baptists did not come here to retrench; we must prepare to spend more money for missions at home and abroad and to spend more in our Sunday school work."

This expression was used in some form by nearly every speaker except Mr. Brownlow in referring to the board system.

A motion by Mr. Brownlow that a special committee supercede the commission report next year was defeated.

Dr. E. C. Dargan, of Macon, Ga., chairman of the efficiency commission, announced that the commission had a supplementary report to make. This was set as a special order for Friday afternoon. Its nature was not revealed.

The report of the Home Mission Board, which was made public yesterday was favorably reported and adopted by the convention today. The report of the treasurer also was received and the treasurer and auditor were re-elected. The other officers were chosen yesterday.

Delegates to the convention late today gave attention to addresses of the leaders from over the South who called on Southern Baptists to push forward in their work.

The Rev. D. R. Cooper, of Detroit, visiting in Houston, told the convention Southern Baptists must increase their home mission work now as to be prepared for the flood of foreign immigration after the close of the European war. Much of this immigration, he said, would come to the South.

Work Among Mexicans.

A large number of speakers at the afternoon session urged the need for Baptist missionaries to work among the 400,000 Mexicans in Southern territory.

The Rev. Dr. George McDaniel, of Richmond, Va., who made the principal address, emphasized the need for an increase in the fund for aiding Baptist communities to build churches. He outlined the work being done in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and by other denominations in this direction.

"While I have no patience with the Prussian military spirit," he said, "I want to urge Southern Baptists to go forward with the spirit which animates Germany."

Except for a resolution endorsing President Wilson and the frequent statement that American Baptists and other Protestants must be prepared to take up foreign mission work which war has compelled those churches in Europe to lay aside, little has been said thus far about the European war.

The report of the executive committee of the Baptist Young People's Union for the past year was submitted to the convention today. It showed a great growth in this work. Kentucky, Georgia, Oklahoma, North Carolina and Texas all have secretaries for pushing the work. Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia are doing B. Y. P. U. work in connection with a Sunday school system.

B. Y. P. U. is Growing.

There are now 3,539 societies of the B. Y. P. U. with a membership of 144,593. During the last year training schools have been conducted by workers in Richmond, Atlanta, Louisville, Macon, Nashville, Chattanooga and Mississippi.

A subject that has been of interest in the past conventions has not yet been taken up at this session. It is the question of admitting women to the convention. It was indicated today that this matter would go over until next year.

Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, of Raleigh, N. C., president of the Woman's Missionary Union, an auxiliary to the Southern Baptist convention, is critically ill in Richmond, Va. From her hospital she sent the Union a message today saying:

"I bid you farewell."

A motion then was passed that the nominating committee of the Union return Miss Heck's name as the nominee for president.

The convention tonight discussed the work of Baptist women during the past year and heard short addresses from missionaries.

ITALIAN CABINET RESIGNS: REASON NOT MADE PUBLIC

Understood Because Not Given Entire Support of the People of the Nation.

IN ITS FOREIGN POLICY

King Has Not Decided Whether Resignations Will be Accepted.

London, May 14. — The Italian cabinet has resigned.

"Councils of Ministers," says Reuter's' Rome correspondent, "considering that it did not possess the unanimous assent of the constitutional parties regarding its international policy, which the gravity of the situation demands, has decided to hand its resignation to the King. An official note to this effect was issued tonight.

"The King has reserved his decision as to whether the resignation will be accepted."

INTERNAL SITUATION.

Matters Throughout Italy Growing Serious—Fear Clashes.

Rome, via Paris, May 13.—At the cabinet meeting today the internal situation was discussed and King Victor Emmanuel expressed the hope that an understanding would be reached which would make parliament unanimous in decisions that are to be taken.

The Giornale D'Italia, which represents government opinion, urges concord. It suggests that in his attitude favoring Italy remaining neutral, former Premier Giolitti perhaps went farther than he intended to do. The newspaper recalls the phrase of Garibaldi when he landed 55 years ago today in Sicily, with his 1,000 volunteers, "If united, our task will be easy," and calls for unity at the present time.

The political parties whose policies are in favor of Italy remaining neutral have announced the intention of organizing a demonstration to counteract the actions of those who favor intervention.

The police of Rome, fearing conflicts between the citizens of the various parties, are taking extraordinary measures to cope with the situation.

Troops on Guard.

Troops occupy all the important points of the city, and are especially in force in the vicinities of the Austro-Hungarian and German embassies. Strong detachments of soldiers also are being kept in the neighborhood of ex-Premier Giolitti's house ready to rush to his defense if necessary.

Former Premier Giolitti has published in the Tribuna a letter declaring he came to Rome because he was summoned here to express his views. He says his convictions have not changed since he expuressed them in a speech before parliament.

Dowager Queen Margherita, mother of King Victor Emmanuel, has ordered that the second floor of her palace be transformed into a hospital for wound-

THREE AMERICANS KILLED IN MEXICO

Colony of Sixty-Five Attacked by Yaqui Indians

TROOPS SENT TO SCENE

Lawless Element Reported to be Butchering Men, Women and Children and Pillaging All Property. Assistance is Sent.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., May 13.—Yaqui Indians attacking a colony of 65 Americans, including women and children, near Esperanza, south of Guaymas, have killed three and wounded several others, according to information received today by Frederick Simpich, American Consul here. The battle continues.

The Americans reported killed are John Wilson, W. A. Fay and William Stocker. J. J. Donovan is missing and is believed to have been killed.

Jose Maytorena, governor of Sonora, has ordered a detachment of 500 troops to entrain at Guaymas and proceed to the aid of the Americans.

Refugees from the interior report conditions in Sonora to be little short of appalling. The Yaquis and lawless elements of all sorts are pillaging and committing murder, they say. The Indians are reported to be butchering men, women and children indiscriminately.

NEED MANY MORE MEN IN THE BRITISH ARMY FRENCH WIN SUCCESS

Viscount Haldane Intimates in the House of Commons That Change Will be Made in Recruiting Plans—French Win Successes in the West—Russians Claim to be Withstanding Attacks of Austro-Germans.

London, May 13. — Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor in the house of lords, today intimated that the government was considering the necessity of departing from the voluntary system of military enlistment, and resorting to universal service throughout the kingdom. For the present, he said, the hands of the war office were filled with the men they possessed, but it might be necessary to reconsider the situation in the light of the tremendous necessities with which the nation was confronted.

This appears to confirm the idea prevalent here that, while recruiting has been satisfactory, the heavy fighting in Flanders shows that many more men will be required if victory is to be attained.

Thus far, British troops, according to Field Marshal Sir John French, have withstood all the German onslaughts and while at times they have been compelled to give some ground, their counter attacks have brought them back to the position from which they started. However, this has been costly, for the German artillery bombardment has been severe, counter attacks are always followed by heavy casualties. In their last failure to reach Calais the Germans continued their attack for six weeks, but the Allied forces were much weakened then, and the Germans did not meet the counter-offensive they now meet in the West.

French Win Success.

Of these, the most important is that of the French ranging from Arras to a point where their forces join the British, and in which they continue to meet with unvarying success. They report again today the capture—which the Germans admit—of strongly fortified positions, and one road, at least, which the Germans have been using to bring up reinforcements to the positions near La Bassee. Therefore, it is believed here the French successes will lighten the pressure the Germans are bringing to bear on the British around Ypres.

The Austro-German offensive continues in West Galacia, where the Russians have been driven 40 miles back from their old positions, and to within 25 miles of Premsyl. The fighting, however, has become less intense. The Germanic allies estimate their prisoners at 150,000 men, 69 guns and 255 machine guns.

The Russians claim that they are in a position to prevent a further advance by the Germans and Austrians, but as it is they have lost much ground.

In Eastern Galicia the Russians assert that as a result of their new offensive the Austrians have commenced a disorderly retreat.

Another battleship, the Goliath, the third the British have lost since the attack on the Dardanelles began, has been torpedoed by the Turks, and of the crew of 700 or more only 180, including 20 officers, were saved. While the Goliath was an old vessel, she was useful for the work which she had been assigned, and the loss in men is serious. There is some consolation to the British in other news from the Dardanelles, that a British submarine in a dash into the Sea of Marmora, torpedoed two Turkish gunboats and a large transport. This probably is the submarine the Turks thought they had sunk, but which apparently got back through the mines to the passage.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP SUNK.

Torpedoed in the Dardanelles—Turkish Gunboats and Transports Sunk.

London, May 13.—The British battleship Goliath has been torpedoed in the Dardanelles with a probable loss of more than 500 lives and two Turkish gunboats and a Turkish transport have been sunk in the Sea of Marmora by the British submarine E-14, which penetrated the Dardanelles. This announcement was made in the house of commons today by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who added that 20 officers and 160 men of the Goliath's crew were saved. Mr. Churchill said:

"The Goliath was torpedoed last night in a torpedo attack by destroyers while protecting the French flank just inside the straits.

"Twenty officers and 160 men were saved, which I fear means that over 500 were lost.

"The admiralt commanding at the Dardanelles also telegraphs that the submarine E-14, which with so much daring penetrated to the sea of Marmora, has reported that she sank two Turkish gunboats and a large Turkish transport."

The Goliath was one of the older British battleships of the pre-dreadnaught type. She was built in 1898. Her complement was 750 men. She was 400 feet long on the water line; displaced 12,950 tons, and was armed with four 12-inch and twelve 6-inch guns; twelve 12-pounders, six 3-pounders, two machine guns, and four torpedo tubes.

The Goliath is the third British battleship whose loss in the Dardanelles attack had been announced by the British government. Loss of the Irresistible and Ocean was announced on March 19. On April 5 a wireless dispatch from Berlin said the British battleship Lord Nelson also had been destroyed. That report was not confirmed.

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

Admit Loss of Men and Munitions to French in West—Russians Taken.

Berlin, via London, May 13.—The German war office announced today that in the recent fighting in Galicia and Russian Poland, 143,500 Russians, 69 cannon and 255 machine guns have been captured.

MANY VISITORS IN CITY FOR MEETING

Traveling Men Arriving for Annual Convention

FIRST SESSION TODAY

State T. P. A. Association Convenes This Morning at Oceanic Hotel at Wrightsville Beach—Mayors Will Welcome Them.

Every incoming train yesterday and last night brought traveling men from all parts of the State and the indications are that there will be a hundred or more visiting delegates present at the opening session this morning at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach of the annual convention of the North Carolina Travelers' Protective Association. The convention will continue through tomorrow and it is expected that a majority of the visitors will remain over Sunday at the beach.

The "knights of the grip" believe in being on the ground promptly and delegations from Charlotte, Greensboro and Winston-Salem arrived in the city Wednesday night. They spent the day here yesterday and last night the hotels in the city were enlivened with the cheering talk of optimistic men, the kind all traveling men are.

Work for Local Post.

The late trains last night were met by suburban cars of the Tidewater Power Company and those who desired to do so went directly to the beach. However, by far the larger number remained in the city, several special Pullman cars having been secured in order that the visitors might not have to be aroused in the middle of the night. The last of the delegates are expected to come in on the 9:45 train of the Atlantic Coast Line this morning. These will be joined by many of those who came in last night and they will go to the beach for the opening session of the convention at 11 o'clock.

Mr. A. L. Byrd, of Charlotte, State president; Mr. D. C. Crutchfield of Winston-Salem, State secretary, and Mr. J. J. Norman, of Winston-Salem, chairman of the State membership committee, spent yesterday hustling for new members for the local post and were able to report a number of new members last night. With such efficient workers in the field the Wilmington post bids fair to lead the State.

The Programme Today.

Mr. T .D. Love, president of the Wilmington post, announced the following programme yesterday:

11 a. m.—Convention called to order by the president at the Oceanic hotel. Addresses of welcome by Mayor Parker Quince Moore, of Wilmington, and Mayor T. H. Wright, of Wrightsville Beach. Response in behalf of the State T. P. A. by Lieutenant Governor E. L. Daughtridge, of Rocky Mount, and State President A. L. Byrd, of Charlotte. Business session.

2 to 5 p. m.—Business session.

8 p. m.—Business session.

Elect Officers Tomorrow.

Business session Saturday morning for election of State officers and delegates to the National convention which will be held in Omaha, Neb.

MR. CHAS. F. TOMLINSON,
National Director, T. P. A., High Point, N. C.

12 o'clock noon—Oyster roast and barbecue at the Oceanic hotel.

At 3 o'clock all the members will meet at the City Hall in Wilmington and will be taken for an automobile ride over the city and county. The T. P. A.'s will return to the beach in time for the dance at Lumina, which will be given by the Tidewater Power Company in honor of the visitors and the members of the loial post at 8 o'clock.

Grainger's orchestra has been engaged by the Oceanic hotel to furnish music for the T. P. A. convention. Manager J. E. Clayton is leaving no stone unturned to take care of the traveling men in approved Wilmington style which is to leave the latch string on the outside and to bid them welcome to anything they can find. He will make them feel at home and they will be at home while they are in Wilmington and at the beach.

Officers of Association.

President—A. L. Byrd, Charlotte.

First Vice President—H. T. Blair, North Wilkesboro.

Second Vice President—George S. Edwards, Rocky Mount.

Third Vice President—Clem Wilder, Raleigh.

Secretary and Treasurer—D. C. Crutchfield, Winston-Salem.

BACK DOOR OF RESERVE SYSTEM TO BE OPENED

State Banks Joining Will Have Way to Get Out.

Great Objection Made by State Institutions to System Was That Getting In They Couldn't Get Out—Board is Decided.

Washington, May 13.—After consideration lasting several months, the Federal Reserve Board virtually has decided to allow state banks to enter the Federal Reserve system with the right to withdraw and surrender membership if they so desire.

This is believed to assure the entrance of hundreds of strong state institutions into the system. Early in the consideration of the problem it was made known by state bankers that their principal objections to entering was that apparently when once in they must surrender their charters or liquidate to get out.

State bankers expressed the view that they were not compelled by the Reserve act to enter the Reserve system as were National banks and that therefore the door should be left open for their departure. The board debated the question at length and consulted with Governors of the Federal Reserve banks and members of the advisory council. It was said tonight the board probably would explain in a circular soon to be issued that the only limitation on the withdrawal of state banks shall be as to a maximum retirement of capital and reserve fro mthe syste mduring any one year. It also will be made clear that the obard does not wish to make hard and fast rules governing loans on real estate by state banks, but that it desires only to limit those loans so that a bank's assets will be kept always in a fairly liquid condition.

DETROIT STREET CAR STRIKE NOT SETTLED

Railway Officials, Employes and City Authorities in Long Conference.

Detroit, Mich., May 13.—After conferences between city officials the Detroit United Railway and its striking employes, lasting all day the opposing factions were still unable to agree upon a plan to end the street car strike that went into effect here today. Although teh discharge of Peter Whaling for alleged carelessness in his work as a motorman was the direct cause of the strike, it was understood that other differences arose during the day. The nature of these were not divulged.

Only a few interurban cars ran during the day. No city cars were operated.

New York, May 13.—The meeting of the executive board of the aNtional American Wman Suffrage Association which was to have been held today has been postponed until after the conference of suffrage leaders in Chicago, June 6 to 9.

Seventh District Congressman Says He Would Be Unable to Make Campaign While Serving His District in Congress.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., May 13.—Representative Robert N. Page will not be a candidate for Governor in 1916. He will be in the race for re-nomination and election to Congress to succeed himself.

The above conclusions are reached after reading a part of a letter Mr. Page wrote recently to a friend in North Carolina. In this letter Mr. Page says he is now holding a commission to represent his district in Congress. He declares that he would be unable to conduct a campaign for the governorship and at the same time properly represent his district in Congesrs.

CHARACTER OF NATION IS BEING LAID BARE

Says Vanderlip in Addressing Delegates to Conference.

Suth and Central American Delegates Here for Financial Conference Are Getting "Flashlight Revelation" of Heart.

New York, May 13.—Delegates from Central and South American countries to the coming Pan-American Financial Conference at Washington were told in an address today by Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank, that their presence in the United States at this time offered them an opportunity to obtain a "flashlight revelation" of the character of this nation.

This, he believed, would be in accord with their own national ideals and bring a unity of sentiment between the two continents "more important to civilation that all the trade relationships that we may ever hope to build."

Mr. Vanderlip, the chief speaker at a luncheon given in honor of the delegates by the Merchants' Association of New York, said:

"The soul and conscience of the nation are being laid bare. You may in these days learn more of our true national character than you could ever had an opportunity to learn before. You will be able to judge with what strength and uprightness; with what forbearance and conservativeness we stand in defense of our principles and our national honor. You will be able to learn what sort of fibre we have for such responsibilities and duties as are ours in guarding the peace of this hemisphere."

RECORD OF TRINITY'S 1915 BASEBALL TEAM VERY GOOD

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., May 13. — Although not a phenomenal one, the record of Trinity's 1915 baseball team has been a very good one, and is fully comparable to the records of the general run of Southern colleges. The official memorandum of the eighteen games played shows eight victories, one even break, and nine defeats. Seven of the games lost were with Northern college teams. Two were taken by the University of Virginia; one of the series of three games with Wake Forest was lost, and Weaver College handed out to the team one of the most severe drubbings it received.

THEATRICAL

That well known and justly popular actor Romaine Fielding is playing the leading part in the two-reel Lubin special "Mr. Carlson of Arizona," at the Grand today. The story of Mr. Carson's adventures and love affairs is very interestingly told in this photoplay, but it is really the personality of the title role gentleman that makes this picture the strong feature it is. Working opposite Mr. Fielding is Miss Vinnie Burns and through her work easily demonstrates her right to become Mrs. Carlson of Arizona. In the Majestic Comedy drama, "Minerva's Mission," Dorothy Gish and James Gorman are featured, this favorite Majestic actress appearing in a somewhat different type of character from any she has hitherto attempted. The story is a satire on the fads of modern reformers and Minerva sets out to reform everybody and gets herself into an awful mess of trouble.

"$1,000 Reward", a Thanhouser drama, features the well known Fairbanks Twins and is a cute "burglar and kid" story that will please the grown ups as well as the little 'uns.

Saturday will be "laugh day" sure for "Fatty" will romp through a thousand feet of "Fatty's Chance Acquaintance."

At the Victoria.

Who that has seen William Farnum, erstwhile the valiant Ben Hur, haughty Prince Mahomet and resonant Ingomar, whirling in a chariot race, defying fate with a Gargantuan sword or stalking through the barbarian's role in tiger skins and rhetoric, can imagine the man who has been called America's greatest actor of such parts in a typical Nat Goodwin characterization? Or to come to a more recent date isn't it an abrupt transition from Mr. Farnum's recent mastery work as Samson in William Fox's production of Bernstein's great modern drama of love and frenzied finance to his rendition of Chauncey Short, the village cut-up, in the earlier scenes of the Fox picturization of Henry Guy Carleton's comedy drama "A Gilded Fool" in which Mr. Farnum makes his latest screen bow? Those who witnessed the five great parts of Samson, in which Mr. Farnum as Maurice Brachard did some of the most masterful work of his career, will be equally enthusiastic when they see the high artistry this versatile and notable actor displays as Chauncey Short.

Mr. Farnum himself is delighted with this chance to play a light role, and says: "Whether I can play a comedy part or not is, of course, in the last analysis for the public to decide."

There is no doubt in the minds of those who have seen "A Gilded Fool" but that the answer will be in the affirmative. From the rollicking, good-hearted, loud-mouthed "village cut-up" to the ultimately keen-minded man of business that Chauncey Short develops into, Mr. Farnum gives a wonderfully finished characterization that will certainly astonish his nation-wide admirers who have seen him in Ben Hur, in which he starred for five years and other plays of classic repertoire. Assisted by one of the most noteworthy companies gathered together since the making of motion pictures began, Mr. Farnum gives a performance marked by distinction, subtlety and clever comedy. "A Gilded Fool" is in every respect one of the "Productions Extraordinary" that have made Fox Feature Films famous on two continents.

"Exploits of Elaine"—Bijou.

Today's great six-reel bill at the home of "The Incomparable Movies" is one of the very biggest of the week, from every standpoint. Headed by that great serial drama, "The Exploits of Elaine," with the 10th great episode, which contains some of the most thrilling bits of photoplay yet seen in this master Pathe serial. "The Clutching Hand" comes to view again, with a new and daring scheme to outwit Craig Kennedy, and almost succeeds.

This is followed today by one of the greatest two-reel Universal dramas of the week, "A Prophet of the Hills," a romantic and thrilling Laemmle drama featuring Frank Lloyd and Helen Leslie in the leading roles. Every production of Frank Lloyd's is sure to have the real heart interest and the realistic settings, as well as the clever acting that make a really big photoplay, and Helen Leslie is seen in one of her very biggest roles in this feature.

Animated Weekly, the most interesting number of "the movie newspaper" in some weeks, contains scenes of interest from all over the world, and the concluding number is a rip-roaring L-Ko comedy feature, "Shaved in Mexico", featuring the inimitable Hank Mann in the lead.

CAROLINA COLLEGE IS THRIFTY INSTITUTION

Third Annual Commencement at Maxton Begins Sunday

Dr. W. J. Martin, Rev. M. Bradshaw and Rev. J. E. Underwood Commencement Speakers—Tuesday a Great Day.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., May 13.—The faculty, students, patrons and friends of Carolina College and this community especially are looking forward with great pleasure to the third annual commencement, which will begin Sunday, May 16th. All the exercises will be held in the college auditorium. North Carolina talent is being used exclusively on the program this year. There will be several graduates in the various departments.

On Sunday, May 16th, at 11 A. M., Dr. M. Bradshaw, of Wilson, will preach the baccalaureate sermon. At 8 P. M. on the same day, Rev. J. E. Underwood, chairman of the board of trustees, will preach the sermon before the Y. W. C. A. of the college. Dr. Underwood is deeply interested in the school and has been from its incipiency. Both of these gentlemen are favorites in Maxton and will be heard with much pleasure.

Monday, May 17th, from 3 to 6 P. M. will be exhibits of the department of art, domestic art and domestic science. At 8 o'clock the board of trustees will hold their annual meeting in the president's office. At 8 o'clock there will also be held a reception in the college parlors in honor of the graduating class.

On Tuesday, May 18th, at 1 o'clock, Dr. W. J. Martin, president of Davidson College, will deliver the annual literary address. Immediately following the address the graduating exercises will take place. Dr. Martin is one of the strongest and best known men in the Presbyterian Church of the South.

"We are planning to make May 18th the greatest day in the history of the college," says an announcement by Mr. A. J. McKinnon, secretary of the board of trustees. "Public dinner will be served on the campus and we are extending to all the friends of the college a most cordial invitation to be present on that day especially. We hope to make it a day of social and intellectual enjoyment so that all who are here will look back upon it as one of the happiest days of their lives."

On Tuesday, May 18th, at 8 o'clock, the grand concert will be given in the auditorium. This recital by the student body will be of a very high character. A number of the students taking part will finish in the departments of voice and piano next year, so that they may well be expected to present high class numbers.

The college has enjoyed a very successful year, in spite of the financial depression caused by the European war. The health of the student body has been exceptionally good, and the grade of work done this year has been the best in the history of the institution.

"The college has made wonderful progress during these three years, and we feel that it is but meet that all our friends should assemble here and see what has been accomplished and rejoice with us in the measure of success already attained," says Mr. McKinnon. "We are grateful for the past but are reaching forward to the accomplishment of still greater things in the future."

JUDGE CARTER INVEIGHS AGAINST DELAYS OF TRIALS.

One Reason Law Breakers Lose Respect for the Law and Courts.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., May 11.—Speaking in plain, unvarnished English, without mincing his words, Judge Frank Carter, in charging the grand jury at the opening of the May term of the Superior Court yesterday, declared that the chief reason for the increase of crime, is the lack of respect for the law, and further asserted that the law breakers lost respect for law because of the present system of court procedure which permits long and continued delays.

TORPEDO A TERRIBLE THING.

Some "Inside" Information from a Man Who's Seen 'Em.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 13.—"A torpedo is a most terrible thing," said John F. Hinton, a former employe in the Brooklyn navy yard and now a traveling salesman, here yesterday. Hinton was discussing the Lusitania incident. "There seems to be doubt as to whether one or two torpedoes struck the liner," he said. "Well, one could have done the job nicely. No matter if her compartments were closed automatically and in this instance promptly, which I have failed to see mentioned in the papers, that torpedo could have made a hole in her side that would have let the water into a number of them—enough to sink her. And the hole, mind you, would be partly below the water line as well as above it. Liners are built to float after most unusual accidents, but not to withstand shells and what is worse, torpedoes. The torpedo is a very expensive implement. Built? Why, there never was a clock that contained as much delicate mechanism. Adjustments in a Whitehead or any other type that may be used are measured by the smallest fractions of an inch."

EPISCOPALIANS AT GREENSBORO

North Carolina Diocese in Session Next Week.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., May 13.—The 99th convention of the Episcopal diocese of North Carolina will be held in this city next week, May 18-20, at Holy Trinity Episcopal church. Rev. R. E. Roe is rector of the church that will be host to the diocese. Already a large number of delegates have sent their names to the local entertainment committee. Many prominent speakers will be heard and the usual routine and special business will come before the diocese for action. Local Episcopalians are making every effort to give the visitors royal entertainment.

M'NEILL BEING URGED TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Letters From All Over State Pledge Him Support

Former Chairman of State Corporation Commission May Enter Race —Would Make Campaign a Three Cornered Affair.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 13.—One of the most interesting bits of political gossip that has developed here recently is to the effect that Hon. Franklin McNeill, for a long while chairman of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, and now practicing law here and conducting extensive farming interests, is being urged to get in the race for Governor.

For some time now, it is learned, Mr. McNeill has been receiving letters from influential citizens urging that he allow his name to be used as a candidate for Governor and pledging their active support. Especially strong are the importunings that are coming in to Mr. McNeill from Eastern Carolina, the Cape Fear section of the State which really represents Mr. McNeill's "local constituency." It is a fact, also, that his very able services on the Corporation Commission gave him great precedence throughout the State so that, in the opinion of those urging him to stand for the Governorship, he will find strong support in every section of the State. Mr. McNeill's entry into the contest would make the campaign a three angled one with Attorney General Bickett, Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge and Mr. McNeill in the race for the 1916 Democratic primary nomination.

National Guard Officers' School.

The day at the Officers' Practice Camp, North Carolina National Guard, just north of the city, was given over to a practice under heavy marching orders with the officers participating formed into a company duly officered by the instructors under the direction of Capt. Langdon, United States army, as chief instructor. It was an all day march with a halt at 1 o'clock for dinner, each man receiving his allotment of food which he prepared for himself in regular soldier fashion. The camp is proving most satisfactory in every respect and the officers, of whom there are more than 100, have their evenings from 6 to 11 o'clock off for social pleasures.

Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young and Deputy Commissioner Sherwood Brockwell, expert fireman, are spending the week in New York attending the sessions of the National Fire Protection Association.

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS

Engineer Horton Wins Third Time in Suit Against S. A. L.

Raleigh, N. C., May 13.—For the third time, James T. Horton wins out in his damage suit against the Seaboard Air Line, in a decision of the Supreme Court, handed down in a batch of a dozen or so yesterday. A Wake county jury awarded him $4,500 for personal injuries received when a boiler explosion occurred, his eyes being permanently injured.

The case has been one of continual litigation in the courts of North Carolina. Now the defendant's attorneys state that a writ of error will be asked to take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

The action was brought for personal damages to the plaintiff while an engineer in the service of the defendant which damages were caused by an explosion on a locomotive impairing the sight of the plaintiff's eyes.

Other opinions handed down by the court were:

American National Bank vs. Hill, Anson, affirmed.

American National bank vs. Northcut, Anson, affirmed.

State vs. Allison, Iredell ,no error.

Jordan vs. Simmons, Montgomery, new trial.

Spencer vs. Bynum, Randolph, affirmed.

Coxe vs. Carson, Burke, affirmed.

Huffman vs. Lumber Company, Burke, no error.

Setzer vs. Plonk, Cleveland, no error.

Foster vs. Tryon, Polk, no error.

Sloan vs. Assurance Society, Burke, affirmed.

Mace vs. Mineral Company, Mitchell, affirmed.

Huntley vs. McBrayer, Rutherford, no error.

State vs. Holland, Buncombe, docketed and dismissed under rule 17.

ALBION DUNN FOR MAYOR

Death at Greenville—Ex-Governor Jarvis Improving.

DUPLIN MAN DANGEROUSLY CUT

Charles Kornegay Injured in Altercation with Tenant.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 15.—Charles Kornegay, a farmer residing near Kenansville, is said to have been dangerously cut by a tenant, a white man whom he upbraided for abusing credit which the landlord had permitted him to trade upon at a neighborhood store, according to a report which reached here today. The man talked angrily and, according to the report, Kornegay started towards him with a stick. The two grappled and the tenant inflicted several gashes, one of a serious nature, with a knife upon Kornegay's back.

STABBED BY NEGRO, CHASES A MILE AND CAPTURES HIM

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, May 13.—After being stabbed in the back, receiving a wound four inches long and several inches deep, Mr. J. J. Clark chased a negro man for a mile and finally captured him.

From the report of the affair it appears that the negro was late coming to work and Mr. Clark employed a substitute and when the man finally appeared at the place, he was told that the wages of the substitute would be charged against him. This made the negro angry and after some words, Mr. Clark turned and started for the house and the man stabbed him in the back.

TWO WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chicago, Ill.—"I must thank you with all my heart for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used to go to my doctor for pills and remedies and they did not help me. I had headaches and could not eat, and the doctor claimed I had female trouble and must have an operation. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it and feel fine. A lady said one day, 'Oh, I feel so tired all the time and have headache.' I said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' and she did and feels fine now."—Mrs. M. R. KARSCHNICK, 1438 N. Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The Other Case.

Dayton, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of pains in my side that I had for years and which doctors' medicines failed to relieve. It has certainly saved me from an operation. I will be glad to assist you by a personal letter to any woman in the same condition."—Mrs. J. W. SHERER, 126 Cass St., Dayton, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

We never gain anything by downing others if we down ourselves along with those we down.

"Charity begins at home," but it begins to put up a poor mouth there and generally keeps it up.

It costs something to hold elections, but sometimes it costs a great deal more not to hold them.

The people always get the kind of government they don't vote against when they have the chance.

In spite of everything, Roosevelt and Thaw persist in coming to the front as the end-men of the passing show.

Chicago expects to have five million people in the next 25 years. Chicago is one place which generally lives up to her expectations.

When it comes time to fight, our observation about a jingo is that he will stay home so as to give all his wife's relations a chance to go to the front.

We think we are making money by feeding others, but we are only making them fat and sassy enough to hit a poor neutral who wants to do everything but fight.

Torpedoes which used to cost $4,202 can now be made for $3,254. Even at the reduced cost, no editor needs a torpedo to enable him to blow in his 30 cents for a day's sustenance.

Anyhow, what's the excuse for having a chronic state of discord? We certainly would have harmony if all of us would serve the public interests more and serve other interests less.

Everybody was asked not to "rock the boat," but Teddy seems to have thought that it was only an invitation to everybody to rest on their oars and let him rock the boat by himself.

Who's going to make that first motion to apologize to the Mexicans for accusing them of not conducting civilized warfare like it is carried on in America and Europe in war times?

"Beyond the Alps lies Italy." Of course, she does as a general thing, but if she crosses the Alps she will keep it up on that side so as to make us think she is gaining a few meters on the Austrians.

Anybody can easily discern that Wilmington is infested with peanut politics. All one has to do is to look around and see the peanut shells used in keeping one from guessing which one covers the bean.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union: "Mr. Bryan urges us to stand by our claim for an open door in China." Oh, y-e-s-s! We are going to stand by it, but when they want us to stand up for it, we care not for very much open door.

A court has decided that a man must use his own money and not sponge on his wife for expenses. Nevertheless, if a man's wife were to see the poor thing living from hand to mouth, she would not have the heart to treat the old man as if he were some good-for-nothing old thing.

One thing the matter with the South is that so many of us are "from Missouri" on the very best of propositions. We wait for somebody to "show us" instead of showing them how we can do it. Initiative is lacking, but probably initiative has to be born in people if they are to have much.

Joliet, Ill., recently voted dry, but the mayor elected is quoted as saying that he saw a fish which barked like a dog and had a beak like some huge bird. That is not all he says he saw, for he states this strange fish attacked and capsized a boat containing two men. Of course, as a dry mayor is supposed to be on the waterwagon, he must have taken a substitute that flew to his head and lit on his imagination.

NOW IT'S WILSON

"Thank God for Wilson!" is having its full significance during the crisis which this country faces at this time. Wilson sat steady in the boat when there were strong influences favoring and even urging invasion of Mexico by a United States army to restore peace. Wilson decided that peace could not be restored and guaranteed that way. He did not attempt it. He wouldn't. He didn't. He was under the conviction that this country had no international or moral right to intervene in the affairs of a neighboring or a foreign country.

The people of this country can now conjure what the present situation would have been if the country had a President without the strength and wisdom of Wilson. Why, our army would have invaded Mexico and been there yet. Meanwhile, the Pan-American war would have occurred, and later Japan's course in China would have faced an administration which was meddling in Mexico's affairs. A weak administration would have found cause to go to war with Great Britain for interfering with our commerce as a neutral. There were those who not long ago advised that battleships be sent abroad to convoy commerce to make the Britons stand off. Wilson had no idea of being so unwise.

Next, as one of the guarantors of the integrity of China, an administration with a fly off the handle policy would have been calling Japan down for her interference with Chinese affairs. Meanwhile, there would have come on that administration this worst of all crisises, brought about by the German submarines in torpedoing American ships and in sending down the British steamship Lusitania with the loss of more than 100 American lives.

Wilson has been President two years and two months. During that brief period, he has had a chance to get into war with Mexico, Great Britain, Japan and Germany. Woe would have been this country's interests if Wilson had not been its President, or had some jingo been on the job at Washington rocking the boat with the Nation.

As it is now, the country faces an exceedingly grave crisis. It is not in any other trouble, thanks to Wilson, so that he is left to handle only this one at present. Inasmuch as he was wise in the days of proposed Mexican intervention, wiser than all the wiseacres and the jingoes, he can now be trusted to exercise more wisdom than others in dealing with Germany.

Leave it to Wilson. He knows when others do not know that they know not. He knows what others do not. If Wilson cannot steer the ship of state safely, nobody can. If the crisis cannot be handled through his wisdom and the country has to face the inevitable, it will not be for the reason it has an administration with a head full of sawdust on fire.

THE CITY IMBROGLIO.

Is it too much to expect that there will be an early session of the city council at which some steps may be taken that will ward off the impending recall election—a result devoutly to be wished? The council may have comprehensive plans for general reformation in public expenditures that will niche in with what has been done and the unfolding of this plan may allay the popular clamor just now for drastic action, but until this is done there can be no underestimating the general public indignation at what has thus far been accomplished, especially in the creation of new offices, and a delay may be costly and vexatious

While we do not believe that what the council has done constitutes a breach so serious as to call for an invocation of the recall it is certain that until the public is taken into the confidence of council as to what it proposes to do, there will be a very sore spot with most taxpayers. Public sentiment is well nigh unanimous that the council ought now to get down to business, shaking off factionalism, discord and the playing of petty politics and give us a business-like adminstration.

A start in this direction is apparently negatived thus far by a step in the other, and until the whole general plans of council are made known, the average voter is going to kick and take pleasure in registering loudly his indignation.

QUALIFICATION VS. VINDICATION

The Democrats of North Carolina ought to, and doubtless will, nominate their candidates for office with sole regard to their ability and fitness, without regard to vindicating them in any particular. A man's vindication lies in the courts and public opinion without regard to whether he is capable of filling an office or not. An incapable man worthy of vindication would hardly expect people to vote for him on such an issue as his vindication in any respect. A capable man can certainly depend on his ability for any nomination and should not expect votes as a matter of vindication.

Voters might be asked to vindicate a man's political course by approving it at the polls, but the body politic is a poor court in which to present a case for trial. We would think that no man would take any risks on such a vindication, if he has an opponent who is liable to get a majority on his own merits. One might even be entitled to vindication and yet get a small vote as a candidate for office. As a candidate for vindication he might get but a small vote, even though the voters might regard him as a man with the cleanest kind of skirts and the best kind of record.

A candidate who seeks office on his merits and one who seeks office as a vindication couldn't possibly have a contest over anything but their qualifications, unless they take the stump as prosecutor and defendant. Nobody would want to be an innocent bystander in such a fight. We can't imagine that either the prosecutor or the defendant would get many votes. We don't think any man ought to invite attack on his record as a political campaign issue, but if he wants to run for office on his merits and some mud-slinger or dirt-dauber should spring the issue, it is he that would have to make good or go up against the ropes and take the count on the last round.

A man who is not attacked on the hustings has nothing to defend, so if he were to lug in something not involving the question of his capability, he would compel people to listen to a discussion entirely irrelevant to a matter in which qualification is the real criterion by which candidates are to be judged.

We want every Democrat in North Carolina to run for an office—and about all of us would run if we could get it—but we don't think any of them need vindication enough to beat an opponent who might be so unfortunate that he would have no excuse to make an appeal for some sort of vindication.

It is not fair for any condidate to have two long poles to knock down the persimmon. One who has all the necessary ability and also wants his vindication to be taken into account would have all the advantage of one who has nothing but ability to offer in the contest. If any Democrat should happen to get nominated as a vindication, all of them might charge themselves with something or other or get their friends to heave several hunks of mud at them so they could get out and sweep the stakes. Somebody might get nominated as a matter of vindication and then be without the ability to hold down the job.

We don't know of a single Democrat in North Carolina who needs vindiction in a primary election, and so we move that all run on their merits and let others take chances on getting defeated by thinking they can win by mud-slinging and dirt-daubing and bushwhacking and waylaying.

TALK BY CREAMERY EXPERT.

The Raleigh chamber of commerce is engaged in constructive work when it is taking an active part in promoting the co-operative creamery to be conducted under the auspices of the experiment station of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. In promoting the development of creameries and dairies, two branches of industry are being introduced—the livestock industry and creamery enterprises. That is a function of chambers of commerce, the organized efforts of which are to encourage as well as secure industries of all kinds in both the city and the country.

The Raleigh chamber had a meeting on Tuesday night, in connection with the movement, now well under way, for the establishment of the A. & M. College creamery plant as a basis on which to give the enterprise a start. The chamber had as the speaker of the evening a creamery and dairy expert, Dr. Alvan J. Reed, of the United States Department of Agriculture, who has spent a number of years in North Carolina, in endeavoring to develop the creamery resources of the State through co-operative work between the Federal and State authorities.

According to The Star's Raleigh correspondence, Dr. Reed reviewed quite interestingly the creamery developments in this State and gave sound advice as to what is needed to get creameries established as factors in communities. He said that the first creameries opened in this State were set up at Waynesville, Statesville, Salisbury and Charlotte twenty years ago by promoters from without the State, whose prime object was to dispose of some antiquated creamery machinery. These, he said, were set up without regard to the resources in the way of cows that the communities afforded, so they naturally proved complete failures from the start.

It was only about six years ago, according to Dr. Reed, that the creamery business really got any permanent footing in North Carolina. This was through a creamery opened up in Catawba county. The industry has spread to Iredell county with a thriving creamery now at Statesville. Then there are successful creameries at Greensboro, Mooresville and Monroe. All of them proving great boons to the farmers in those sections of the State.

The method of developing a section for the opening of a creamery, Dr. Reed pointed out, is to first organize routes through the country for gathering up the cream and to get whatever cream is available and ship it away to the nearest creamery until there is enough development along the cream routes to actually warrant the operation of a local creamery at a profit. He estimates that 600 cows are necessary to furnish enough cream to make a creamery plant profitable.

The Star has long urged the development of the livestock industry in Eastern North Carolina and has repeatedly pointed out the opportunity for a creamery at Wilmington. Mr. J. P. Herring, farm demonstrator for New Hanover county, is deeply interested in the proposition and is working up interest among the farmers in this and surrounding counties. There is a fine opportunity for the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club to get in touch with Mr. Herring and get behind the enterprise, just as the Raleigh chamber is doing.

Now is the time to strike in this matter, while so much interest has been aroused. Indeed, it would be a good idea to get Dr. Reed to come here and deliver such a valuable and informing address as that he made before the Raleigh chamber.

COUNCILMANIC SQUABBLE.

To the Editor of The Star:

In glancing over your columns of today, I was not a little surprised to see a notice of recall for our newly elected councilmen. I am not personally acquainted with any of these gentlemen, and consequently can have no personal motive prompting me in what I may say. It is true I did not approve of half the board absenting themselves to shirk a responsibility which by virtue of their office could be assumed by no other; yet had I been in possession of all the facts, I might have thought differently. Granting that the new board has made a mistake, who of us is infallible? They tell us the councilmen are playing politics. Is not the agitation for a recall likewise politics? But the board is charged with creating new departments and establishing new offices, in order to extricate themselves from the dilemma of their recent deadlock. This is a presumption based on hypotheses rather than known facts. The assumption makes no allowance for a desire for greater efficiency, nor for the normal development of the various departments of the city.

If Wilmington is to continue to expand and assume its legical position among the important cities of the State, there can be no merging of departments, nor reduction of forces; but, on the contrary, the forces must be commensurate with the growing development of the city.

If the people of Wilmington are satisfied at our present attainment, and each department of the city is up to their ideal of efficiency, then our councilmen have, indeed, blundered, and should be replaced by those whose ideals and conceptions are met by present conditions. But for those of us who are not satisfied with our present attainment, let us like Hamlet, suffer the ills we now endure, rather than fly to those we know not of.

Very respectfully,

S. E. BURE.

Wilmington, N. C., May 13.

CURRENT COMMENT.

In the case of Gulflight, what was involved was a wanton attack upon the American flag. This is much the more serious question for the Administration. It must be left to Mr. Wilson, and the country must be prepared to hold up his hands.—Wall Street Journal.

Up in Statesville the people are showing so little interest in the Sunday evening services of the churches that the ministerial association has asked them plainly if they want to shut up the churches. Apparently Statesville is a good place to start a revival.—Kinston News.

The claims of Attorney-General T. W. Bickett that he has more than three-fourths of the Democratic vote of the State "nailed down" for him, coupled with the support from practically all quarters of the State that is going for Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge, makes out another case of "unreconcilable claims."—Rocky Mount Telegram.

WHAT IS LAW?

Human law, national and international, is a reflection of human endeavor to promote justice. Those who would interpret the history of man must understand laws that are higher than those made by men or nations.

There are laws in the human heart that at times overleap the laws of human enactment and strengthen arms and hands that would reach out for justice. In such a crisis human organizations are shaken to their foundations; sometimes utterly destroyed.

When humanity has reached the limit of endurance, a crisis follows.

The patience of the people of the United States is exhausted. A people that stands for democracy and human development in freedom has seen a military autocracy in the heart of Europe organizing and arming for a generation under the guise of self-defense. Then the unbelievable has happened.

The spiked helmet with the mailed first has gone forth in blood and iron for conquest. Trampling smaller nations under foot and sounding the ocean depths, it bids defiance to the whole world.

The challenge is open and bold. Piracy and murder on the high seas shall be according to Prussian war law. There are no laws; there are no treaties which Germany considers herself bound to respect. All are but scraps of paper."

There is, therefore, nothing left in this crisis save the higher law; the law of humanity.

The United States can no longer look upon the war area in Europe as a field for neutrality. The system of "kultur," which means material expansion by organized warfare under a military autocracy has thrown down the gauntlet, not only to the democracy of France and of the British Empire, but to the democracy of the world.

There is, there can be, but one answer. Democracy must take up the challenge——but how?

Two irreconciliable systems of human development under organized governments have met in conflict involving the peace of the globe both on land and water. Modern democracy declares the government the servant of the people. The Prussian house of Hohenzollern declares its rule is by divine right and that the people must serve the government.

The bleeding hands and feet of the women and children of Belgium have called in vain for the protection guaranteed by papers bearing the signature and seal of the government of these United States. Treaties and papers of international agreement have now passed as a scroll that is burned. The dead and dying who carried papers of American citizenship and international passport, yet were coldly and foully murdered on the high seas, now call in the name of humanity.

Shall the war law of Germany prevail on both land and sea?

You can Help Your Husband Stop Drinking

He may think, "I can stop any time." Thousands of men have thought this before. The future proved them wrong. Alcohol became their master—and so it will master your husband. He will not be able to "stop any time."

Then what will become of your children—your little home—all that is so dear to you?

Facing the future is terrifying to the wife of "a drinking man." And yet, there is a way out—you can help him kill his desire for drink and restore health to his alcohol-poisoned nerves.

Four weeks of the Keeley Treatment, as given at Greensboro, N. C., will make him a new man. It will give him new ideals, new inspirations, and make him fit to hold the place he should in the world. At Greensboro the treatment is given by men who understand—no tortures, humiliation or confinement—nothing but pleasant surroundings, pure, bracing air, true Southern hospitality—everything to make the stay a pleasant one.

Thousands of cured men and women attest the success of the Keeley Institute at Greensboro. Read what two grateful ones write:

"For 20 years prior to 1895 I was a slave to strong drink, and complete ruin was staring me in the face. Since taking the treatment that year, I have not tasted strong drink nor had any desire to do so, and having gone eleven years without it I have no fear whatever for the future."
James M. Pittard,
Cedar Grove, N. C.

"I know from observation as to drunkenness and an awful experience as to use of morphine that the Keeley Treatment takes the drunkard from the gutter and the drug user from his dreams—rehabilitating them for the duties of life. It makes them new men."

MAYOR'S NAME ADDED TO RECALL PETITION

Many Signatures are Being Secured, It is Said

Special Meeting of City Council at 3 O'clock This Afternoon May Have Some Bearing on the Municipal Tangle.

Amended yesterday to include the name of Mayor P. Q. Moore, as well as those of all six members of City Council, the recall petitions started the evening before were actively in circulation throughout the city, and it was stated last night that practically enough signatures had already been secured to insure a recall election. However, it was stated, the petitions will probably be continued in circulation in an effort to secure at least 1,000 names.

In the meantime, a special meting of City Council has been called for this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and there is a possibility that the action of Council at this meeting may have some bearing on the recall question. It was the opinion of many yesterday that in the event Council revokes its action in creating the additional offices of Assistant Chief of Police and Assistant Superintendent of Streets, the recall matter might be dropped, as there is a strong sentiment among the business men of the city in opposition to the strife and excitement of another election at this time.

Members of Council were in conference with Mayor Moore at different times yesterday, and the opinion was expressed by those in close touch with the administration that matters will will be adjusted satisfactorily at the meeting this afternoon.

The principal source of the disapproval of the public of Council's course, as it appears from the expressions heard on the streets, was the creation of the offices of assistant chief of police and assistant superintendent of streets. The creation of the office of assistant city attorney carries with it no salary, as the official is to work on a commission or fee basis ,and his compensation to come out of back taxes or other obligations due the city collected through his office. The collection of such taxes heretofore has always been on a commission basis, and has not been a part of the duties of the city attorney, under his set salary.

Petitions for McAllister.

The public seems to have taken an especial exception to the election of Mr. John J. Furlong as superintendent of streets, and several different petitions were in circulation yesterday calling upon Council to reinstate Mr. Mr. McAllister as superintendent of streets. These petitions will probably be presented to Council at the meeting this afternoon.

Mr. McAllister all along has had the support of a large following of citizens who believe his excellent work as superintendent of streets during the past two years entitles him to the position as a reward of merit.

Mayor P. Q. Moore yesterday gave out the following statement with reference to the new offices:

"The Councilmen feel that they have not created any new offices for the reason as stated below. There is a vacancy in the police department at present time for the position of sergeant and instead of calling him sergeant it was decided to call him assistant chief of police. The assistant city attorney is to be paid in fees and is to get no salary whatever, the fees being the same that have been given all along for this class of work. At the present time the street department has one foreman at $4 a day and others at $2 a day, making a total of $8 or $10 a day for foremen. Council decided to do away with some of these and call Mr. McAllister assistant superintendent. In other words, nothing has been changed except the titles to the positions."

Business Men Invited.

Several members of Council yesterday suggested that the representative business men of the city feel that they are invited to attend the meeting this afternoon and give Council the benefit of their views and advice in the problems that confront the body. They will be given every opportunity to be heard, and, it was stated, Council would be under obligations for the assistance and advice.

This invitation will doubtless be accepted by the business men of the city, most of whom, as stated, are opposed to another election at this time if it can possibly be avoided. The meeting this afternoon is expected to be largely attended.

It was ascertained yesterday that only 517 names are required for a recall election, instead of between 900 and 1,000, as was thought at first. The amendment of 1913 provides that a recall can be upon petition of 25 per cent. of the qualified vote cast for mayor in the previous general municipal election. Mayor Moore received 2,081 votes in the last election.

Counciman B. A. Merritt yesterday asked that he be set straight as to his vote on the superintendent of streets, stating that he did not vote for Mr. Furlong. According to the minutes, no negative votes were cast when Mr. Furlong was voted on. Mr. Merritt voted against the election of Mr. McAllister as superintendent of streets on the ground that it was creating a new office.

DAUGHTRIDGE GUEST AT DINNER LAST NIGHT

Lieutenant Governor Predicts Big Development.

Over 50 Citizens Heard Candidate for Governor at Dinner Given by Senator W. B. Cooper, at The Wilmington.

That Wilmington, with a proper development of its splendid natural resources and advantages, can become not only the greatest city in North Carolina, but also on the South Atlantic coast, was the declaration of Lieutenant Governor E. L. Daughtridge, of Rocky Mount, who is here for the T. P. A. convention which opens today, at a dinner given in his honor at the Hotel Wilmington last evening by State Senator W. B. Cooper and attended by more than 50 representative business and professional men.

Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge, whose candidacy for Governor has already been announced, was referred to by a number of the speakers last evening as "North Carolina's next Governor," a remark that met with generous applause each time it was made. His own remarks were also frequently and vigorously applauded.

Prior to Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge's short speech, Mr. Cooper, who acted as toastmaster, called on a number of the gentlemen present for short talks, each of them discussing some phase of Wilmington's varied and magnificent resources and advantages. The evening throughout was a most enjoyable one to all present.

The guest of honor, in beginning his remarks, spoke of the pleasure it afforded him to come to Wilmington and of the delight with which he had seen the many evidences of progress on every hand. Wilmington, he said, if not now the greatest city in North Carolina, may easily become so, and he voiced it as his opinion that it would become so, basing his prediction on his knowledge of the splendid resources and upon the fine spirit of cooperation to be seen on the part of its citizens.

Another thing that always impressed him, and one that promised to become a mighty factor in the future development of the city, was the fact that Wilmington is surrounded by one of the finest areas of farming land he had ever seen. All that is lacking in this respect, said Mr. Daughtridge, was the development of these fertile lands, and he was glad to note the many evidences of a beginning of such development, bespeaking a realization on the part of the citizenship of the importance of such development.

Incidentally, in this connection, the speaker pointed out the importance of educating the boys and girls who are to remain on the farm ,as well as those who are to make their homes in the cities. Farming is a business, he declared, and one that demands, for its highest development, a scientific education.

Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge, who as presiding officer of the Senate, was in position to observe such matters, remarked that Wilmington and New Hanover county had been very modest in their demands upon the State's legislative body. The State as a whole, he said, is interested in Wilmington and if New Hanover continues to send to the Legislature such men as Cooper and Stacy, and will ask for what is wanted, the Legislature will be only too glad to give it.

Mr. Daughtridge closed his speech with an assurance of his own personal interest in the city and section and of his willingness at all times to do any and everything in his power to bring about the proper development of North Carolina's port.

Among those who, in response to invitations from the toastmaster, made short talks during the evening were Maj. H. W. Stickle and Messrs. H. Lacy Hunt, T. D. Love, W. A. McGirt, Jno. R. Hanby, M. C. Tiencken, D. J. Fergus, S. A. Matthews and D. H. Howes.

Junia Brownell Dead.

Many white friends have been grieved to learn of the death of Juliar Brownell, colored, widow of the late Thomas Brownell, who for many years was deliveryman at the Siwasa. His widow was held in high esteem, not only by the people of her own race, but by many white acquaintances also. The funeral was held from St. Mark's Episcopal church, Sixth and Grace streets, Wednesday afternoon and interment was in Pine Forest cemetery.

To Address League.

Rev. G. M. Daniel, pastor of the Seagate group of Methodist churches, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Epworth League of Grace Methodist church this evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "The Hope of the Church." A full attendance is desired. All visitors and the public are cordially invited to be present.

WHITE MAN ACQUITTED BUT NEGROES GUILTY

Federal Court Jury Returned Verdict Last Night.

Alleged That Forty-Three Packages of Snuff Were Stolen From Freight Car at Fayetteville—Entire Day Taken Up With Case.

John L. Smith, a well known white man, who lives between Fayetteville and Hope Mills, was acquitted of a charge of receiving stolen goods by the Federal Court jury last night, while two negroes, Alex. and George Williams, were found guilty of having stolen 43 packages of snuff from a freight car at Fayetteville. The entire day was taken up in the trial of the case and it was not until 10 o'clock last night that the jury returned a verdict. The case was given to them when court took a recess at 6 o'clock.

It was alleged by the government that the two negroes entered a freight car at Fayetteville on the night of January 23rd and that they took 43 packages of snuff, which had been shipped from Norfolk, Va., to a dealer in Timmonsville, S. C., this making it an interstate shipment. It was proven that there were 100 packages in the shipments and that it checked up 43 cases short at Florence, S. C. These same 43 packages were found at the home of Smith.

Smith is a man of some wealth and owns and runs a country store about three miles from Hope Mills. He is also a farmer. He testified that he was 40 miles from home on the night that the snuff was left at his store and this was corroborated by a number of witnesses. He said that the snuff was pawned with his nephew for three gallons of wine, with the understanding that the negroes would call the next morning and pay for the wine.

The negroes denied that they had robbed the car of the snuff. While it was shown by one witness that one of the negroes, accompanied by another negro, had entered the car, the evidence against them was largely circumstantial. In working up the cases the railroad used as a sleuth a negro named Walter Johnson, who declared in his testimony that his home was in Atlanta and that when he was in Fayetteville or Wilmington his home was in the county jails. He is being held in Fayetteville on a charge of robbery.

The defendants were represented by Hon. John D. Bellamy, of this city, and former Solicitor N. A. Sinclair and D. M. Stringfield, Esq., of Fayetteville. District Attorney Francis D. Winston represented the government.

The grand jury completed its work late yesterday afternoon and was dismissed for the term. With the exception of the cases against C. H. Williamson, R. C. Dorey and C. J. Heath, all white men of Richmond county, who are charged with breaking the seals of a freight car at Hamlet and taking a lot of interstate freight, all of the important cases in which the grand jury returned true bills have been tried. The latter case will be taken up this morning. It is probable that the criminal docket will be disposed of today.

LOCAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY CONTRIBUTES 75 BIBLES

Grace Church Organization Donates to Montrose Sanitarium.

A recent appeal from the State Board of Health for contributions in the way of Bibles and books for the State Sanitarium for Tuberculosis at Montrose has met with a prompt response in Wilmington, the Ida Hankins Missionary Society of Grace Methodist church, this city, having notified the Board that they desired to furnish the 75 Bibles needed, and asking that it be requested that others desiring to give contribute Sunday school literature or books for the library.

This splendid move on the part of this society has set in motion, and furnished to other societies, an example of Christian giving and helpfulness. No doubt other similar church organizations will be glad to adopt the suggestion and furnish the needed literature and other reading matter to this institution.

Reading matter—books, magazines, daily and week newspapers, anything that is timely and instructive, is appreciated by the patients at the Sanatorium. They average reading about 60 books a week and have only 300 books from which to choose from week to week. Subscriptions to one or more of the monthly magazines and daily papers would be most acceptable gifts. These especially would help to pass the tedium of the long, ever-the-same days.

MORE "BLIND TIGERS" SENT TO THE ROADS

Three Negroes Given Sentences by Recorder Yesterday Morning.

The police continue to wage war on "blind tigers" and it is a dull day in the Recorder's court now when there are not several negroes to be tried for retailing whiskey in small quantities. Willie Hopkins, George Hill and Solomon Mallett, all colored, were each sentenced by Recorder Empie yesterday on charges of violating the prohibition law. Cases against H. Monroe, Katie Cumbert and Eula Gordon, all colored, were continued for the defendants until today. They went to jail in default of bond.

Julia Parker, white, and Anna Calder and Isabel Hilton, colored, were given 30 days each on the county farm on charges of disorderly conduct. Glasgow Hicks, white, was found not guilty of a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Mamie Young, a colored woman, summoned as a witness, failed to appear and the court ordered that the charge be adjudged frivolous and malicious and the woman taxed with the costs.

Dr. M. J. Carson Bereaved.

Friends here will sympathize with Dr. M. J. Carson in the death of his father, Mr. J. J. Carson,of Sherman, Texas, which occurred suddenly at that place Wednesday morning. Dr. Carson left Wednesday afternoon for Sherman, going by way of Fayetteville, where he was joined by his mother, who was visiting another son, Dr. E. J. Carson, of that place, when her husband's death occurred. Dr. E. J. Carson, of Fayetteville, will be in charge of Dr. M. J .Carson's practice here while he is away.

UNABLE TO SHIP LUMBER

Big Demand for Timber in North But Scarcity of Steamers Cause Dealers Much Inconvenience.

Following a winter of unusual dullness, building operations in the East and North have greatly revived since the spring opened up and Wilmington timber manufacturers are finding it hard to meet their orders on account of the scarcity of steamers. The Clyde Line of New York, and the Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company of Baltimore, have been appealed to by Mr. J. Allan Taylor, chairman of the traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce, to put on additional steamers to take care of the large shipments which have already been ordered.

Many of the railroads of the country, it is said, have gone into the markets for timber. There is also a big demand for lumber in New York on account of the construction of a subway. The vessel tonnage is scarce because many of the vessels have been taken off their regular runs to take care of the increased South American trade. Owing to the European war there is a scarcity of tramp vessels also.

The Clyde Line was appealed to carry in the month to relieve the congested lumber conditions in Wilmington. Mr. J. Allan Taylor yesterday wrote Mr. H. H. Raymond, vice president of the Clyde Steamship Company, in which he called attention to the fact that there has been no abatement of service to Charleston, where the service has always bee nfull, while service has always been full, while quate. He also makes mention of the removal of one vessel from Wilmington for foreign trade which was to have been replaced by another ship of the same size but this replacement has never been made.

There is now offering, he says, 500,000 feet of lumber a week, which is accommodated by the Clyde Line by about one-half and as a result local mills are being forced to close down, imposing a serious hardship, especially on labor. He declares that the situation demands immediate action and promises avail nothing in the premises. He suggests that unless the former service on the Clyde Line can be restored that an extra boat a month be operated to Wilmington for lumber shipments until the situation is relieved.

Mr. C. J. Becker, local agent for the Clyde Line, says that everything possible is being done to relieve the situation and that he expects the Chippewah, a steamer even larger than the Cherokee and the Seminole, to come Monday in the place of the Navahoe, a much smaller boat. This will aid materially. There is now enough timber at the Clyde Line terminals to provide a full cargo for a vessel.

A telegram was sent by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce yesterday to Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company, of Baltimore, requesting that they divert one of their steamers for one run from Wilmington to New York in order to take care of the shipments of lumber awaiting transportation to the North.

PRESIDENT E. K. GRAHAM UNABLE TO BE PRESENT.

Commencement at University Prevents His Coming to Wilmington.

On account of the annual commencement exercises at the University of North Carolina, President E. K. Graham has written that he will be unable to attend the big educational rally to be held in Wilmington on May 26th and 27th. When it became known that Dr. Graham could not come to Wilmington an effort was made to secure Dr. P. P. Claxton, of Washington, D. C., United States Commissioner of Education, but he also has another engagement for that date and will be unable to come.

Dr. Claxton began his teaching career at Wilson and is well acquainted with this State. He writes that he is greatly interested in the progress of education in North Carolina and especially in the plan of administration in New Hanover county.

DAILY GAIN IN WEIGHT

Comes to Those Who Use Samose, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting.

The poor, thin, emaciated person, when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and under weight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood, and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to your proper weight and give you full vigor and vitality. Druggist J. Hicks Bunting will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

The Gospel of Saving

THRIFT is so essential to happiness that failure to practice it is incomprehensible. It is such an easy, simple thing, and it means so much. It is the foundation of success in business, of contentment in the home, of standing in society. It stimulates industry. You never hear of a thrifty man who is lazy. It begets independence and self-confidence, and, finally, it makes a MAN of the individual who practices it.

We invite you to make use of the services of our bank to practice thrift.

OFFICERS OF N. C. DIVISION U. D. C. VISITING IN THE CITY

Mrs. Eugene Little and Mrs. Laura Ingram, both of Wadesboro, the former president and the latter corresponding secretary of the North Carolina Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, are spending a few days in Wilmington. Mrs. Little is the guest of the Misses Cronly on South Third street and Mrs. Ingram is the guest of Mrs. C. L. Dickinson at Carolina Heights.

Mesdames Little and Ingram were in Fayetteville Monday, where they officiated at the laying of the cornerstone of the Confederate Women's Home, now in course of construction in that city.

Tuesday they organized a U. D. C. Chapter at Chadbourn, and Wednesday they attended the district meeting of the Wilmington District,, N. C. Division, U. D. C., held at Whiteville, Mrs. Little presiding at this meeting. There are six chapters in the district and five were represented at the meeting.

Mesdames Little and Ingram were guests yesterday aftrnoon at the annual meetin gof North Carolina Sorosis.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR ELECTED YESTERDAY.

Miss Grace May Foster, of Dayton, Ohio, was elected physical director of the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium which is to be opened on October 1st at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the association yesterday morning. The members of the board feel that they have been particularly fortunate in securing the services of Miss Foster because of her wide experience in this work. She will report for duty on October 1st.

Miss Foster has been engaged in gymnasium work for five years and received her training in the Chicago School of Physical Training and Expression which is said to be one of the best in the country. Before taking up work as a director she was gymnasium girl in the Y. W. C. A. in her home city for six years and is thus in a position to appreciate the work from the standpoint of the members.

Last year she organized gymnasium classes in a new association and thus received training of a nature that will be of great help to her in Wilmington, where she will have to start without an organization of any kind so far as physical work is concerned.

OFFICERS OF SOROSIS WERE INSTALLED YESTERDAY

Officers for the ensuing year were installed at the regular monthly meeting of Sorosis yesterday afternoon in the club rooms on North Third street and the delegates to the recent meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs in Goldsboro made reports of the annual convention. The retiring officers also made their annual reports.

Mrs. Andrew J. Howell in behalf of the ladies of Sorosis presented the retiring president, Mrs. M. L. Stover, a beautiful pin with a pretty violet design, this flower being the symbol of Sorosis. In making the presentation she made a short talk in which she spoke eloquently and beautifully of the work that Mrs. Stover has accomplished during the two years she has served as president of Sorosis. Mrs. Stover accepted the pin with gracious words of appreciation for the splendid co-operation that she had received from the ladies during her administration.

Mrs. J. G. Barentine made a report of the physical, home and economics department discussions at the State Federation; Mrs. J. D. Edwards of the music department; Mrs. E. M. Gregg, of the special social service meeting; Mrs. W. A. French, Jr., of the art committee, and Mrs. M. L. Stover, of the special entertainment for the visitors.

Following are the officers installed for the ensuing year:

President—Miss Margaret Gibson.
Vice President—Mrs. E. L. Prince.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. G. Whitehead.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Robert Ruark.
Treasurer—Mrs. John Thames.

The recording secretary and the treasurer were re-elected at the last meeting for their second terms while the others are new officers.

Report was made that Mr. James Howard, of the Bijou, had arranged for an afternoon of pictures especially for the children. Mrs. Harvey Little was elected as a new member of Sorosis.

Returns After 38 Years.

After an absence of 38 years Mr. Geo. W. Prigge, of Millbury, Mass., is spending a few days in Wilmington on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Ida Swain, No. 608 Orange street. He was born in Wilmington and lived in this city for a number of years before going to Massachusetts. He, of course, found things much changed and is greatly impressed with the splendid progress that has been made in four decades.

Back From Africa.

Rev. and Mrs. N. G. Stevens and son arrived recently in New York from their mission station at Luebo, Congo Belge, Agrica, and are now spending some time at their former home at Council's, N. C. Their many friends in this section have been pleased to welcome them home.

Before you buy a cut price glove

Think of more than merely the appearance of the glove—consider what service you can expect it to give. How will they wash? Will the fabric pull and turn yellow and the glove lose its shape and become baggy? How will the tips wear?

In Kayser Silk Gloves every one of these features is guaranteed to give satisfactory service. That is why twelve thousand dealers and millions of American women prefer them—why more of them are sold than of all other silk gloves combined. Be sure you get complete glove value. Ask for Kayser's.

SMALL GAIN IN COTTON

Early Decline Was Followed by a Steady Advance and Close was Steady Net 1 to 5 Up.

New York, May 13.—An early decline in the cotton market today was followed by advances with the close steady at a net gain of from 1 to 5 points.

The cables were relatively steady but after opening unchanged to five points lower, the local market sold off sharply with active months showing net losses of from 10 to 12 points during the early trading.

Liverpool was a moderate buyer here, but the demand from that source appeared to be smaller than anticipated. Selling also was promoted by the favorable weather and the character of Southern news. Trading was very quiet as prices worked higher and around 9.90 for October Wall Street offerings increased and prices later reacted a few points from the best. The talk around the ring reflected continuous nervousness over political conditions. Cables reporting that the report of Archangle had been opened led to predictions of increased exports to Russia.

Futures closed steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Market Was Nervous and Unsettled. Fluctuations Unaccounted For.

New Orleans, May 13.—Cotton today was nervous and unsettled, with prices showing fluctuations which were difficult to account for. At times there was heavy selling by traders who thought that the next few hours would bring forth highly unfavorable developments while at others there was a good demand from buyers who felt that the worst that could happen at this time had already been discounted in the recent declines.

In the early session prices lost 8 to 10 points, which was not in accord with the better prices than due in Liverpool. Late in the day the market went 11 to 12 points over yesterday's close on the more active months. The close was at a net gain of 4 to 6 points.

Weather news was more favorable, especially from the eastern half of the cotton belt, and some selling was based on it.

Cotton futures closing: May 8.96; July 9.24; October 9.57; December 9.73; January 9.84.

Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; middling 9.00; sales on the spot 725; to arrive 135.

HEAVINESS IN STOCK MARKET

Conditions Almost Wholly Resultant from Aspect of International Affairs—Losses.

New York, May 13.—Heaviness resulting almost wholly from latest aspects in international affairs, attended today's unusually dull stock market. Prices moved up and down according to the caprices of the trading element, which had sole command of the day's operations.

Numerous losses, mostly fractional were registered at the outset followed by moderate recoveries with another decline by midday when the financial district was once more agog with rumors affecting negotiations between Washington and Berlin. The loss of another British warship in the Dardanelles furnished the bears with additional ammunition. On the whole, war specialties fared better than other issues.

General news was of a mixed character, the resumption of dividends, even though in the form of scrip, on Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred, being regarded as an indication of better industria l conditions in the South. There also was increased inquiries for copper metal at the highest prices recently recorded.

New flotations were somewhat heavy in the bond list and other speculative issues went lower in sympathy. Total sales, par value, were $2,317,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

10,000 WATCH AMPUTATION.

Sobs and Tears As Throng Sees Boy's Foot Removed by Surgeon.

(From the New York Herald.)

With a silent, awestricken and heart-touched gallery of more than 10,000 persons, forming a sort of amphitheatre about a surgeon and his operating table, in the Delancey street plaza of the Williamsburg bridge, Seymour Richman, eight years old, was supported by several men while Dr. Lemoroso, of the Gouverneur Hospital, amputated his foot. It had been crushed between the driving chain and the sprocket of an automobile truck.

Although the police reserves were out, they had no disorder to contend with. Every heart beat for the little fellow, who heroically bore up under the ordeal, and who only asked, when told that the foot must come off at once, that his mother be sent for.

Every window in 100 tenements was filled with the faces of women and children, who looked down upon the spectacle, and the only noises in the crowd were the sighs and sobs of these as they watched the surgeon work beneath a brilliant are light at the corner.

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 11.—"There will certainly be a dozen, probably a score from Post H, that will attend," was the remark of an officer of Post H. T. P. A., this morning when asked as to just how many of the local traveling men would be present at the annual State Convention in Wilmington on Friday and Saturday of this week.

"MOTHER JONES" TESTIFIES BEFORE THE COMMISSION

Tells Tales of Labor Troubles From All Parts of the Country.

Washington, May 13.—Tales of industrial wars from Pennsylvania to California during the last 35 years were recounted before the Federal Industrial Commission today by Mrs. Mary Jones, the "Mother Jones" of scores of strikes.

"Mother Jones" described night marches with bands of strikers, battles with the militia and of caring for strikers killed or wounded in strike riots. She told of being carried out of Colorado by militiamen and of hurrying back on the heels of the escort that took her to the state line. Tomorrow she will be examined as to causes and cures for unrest.

The commission heard today Prof. Frank G. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University and Marry A. Cyphers of South Bethlehem, Pa., on the treatment of labor in the courts and concluded the examination of William D. Haywood, of the Industrial Workers of the World.

J. HICKS BUNTING DRUG COMPANY

The "Quality" Drug Store,
FRONT AND GRACE STREETS.

Planning for the Stork's Arrival

Among those things which all women should know of, and many of them do, is a splendid external application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." It is a penetrating liquid and many and many a mother tells how it so wonderfully aided them through the period of expectancy. Its chief purpose is to render the tendons, ligaments and muscles so pliant that nature's expansion may be accomplished without the intense strain so often characteristic of the period of expectancy.

"Mother's Friend" may therefore be considered as indirectly having a splendid influence upon the early disposition of the future generation.

Whatever induces to the ease and comfort of the mother should leave its impress upon the nervous system of the baby.

At any rate it is reasonable to believe that since "Mother's Friend" has been a companion to motherhood for more than half a century it must be a remedy that women have learned the great value of.

Ask at any drug store for "Mother's Friend," a penetrating, external liquid of great help and value. And write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 402 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book of useful and timely information.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE.

By virtue of the power vested in me under a judgment rendered at the April term, 1915, of the Superior Court of New Hanover County, in an action entitled "Geo. A. Grimsley, Trustee, vs. R. A. Wright, et als.," I will offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash, at the Court House door, in Wilmington, N. C., on Wednesday, May 19th, at 12 o'clock M., the following lots of land, located in the City of Wilmington, to wit:

First Lot—Beginning in the western line of Nutt street at a point 119.7 feet Northwardly from the Northern line of Grace street and running thence Northwardly along the Western line of Nutt street 55.75 feet; thence Westwardly and parallel with Grace street 122 feet; thence Southwardly and parallel with Nutt street 55.75 feet; thence Eastwardly and parallel with Grace street 122 feet to the Western line of Nutt street, the point of beginning, same being parts of lots two and three in block 203, according to the official plan of the City of Wilmington, subject, however, to a lease from Worth & Worth, a copartnership, and former owners of said lot, to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, said lease expiring in the year 1934, and being for an easement or siding at the rear of said lot."

Second Lot—Beginning in the Western line of Nutt street, one hundred and ninety-eight feet Northwardly from the northern line of Grace street, and running thence Southwardly along the Western line of Nutt street 22.55 feet to the line of another lot owned by R. A. Wright; thence westwardly and parallel with Grace street one hundred and twenty-two feet; thence Northwardly and parallel with Nutt street, 22.55 feet; thence Eastwardly and parallel with Grace street one hundred and twenty-two (122) feet to the Western line of Nutt street, the beginning point, the same being part of lot No. 3, in block No. 202, according to the official plan of the said City of Wilmington, subject, however, to a lease from Worth & Worth, a copartnership and former owners of said lot to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, said lease expiring in the year 1934, and being for an easement or siding on the rear end of the said lot.

The two lots will be offered separately and then jointly, and the terms of sale are cash, subject to the approval of the Court.

This 19th day of April, A. D. 1915.

RAILROAD CLAIMS DO NOT HOLD GOOD

Cannot Automatically Increase Freight Rates.

THE DECISION OF I. C. C.

Cummins Amendment to the Rate Law, Upon Which Claims Are Based, Not Intended for That Purpose, is Ruling.

Washington, May 13.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today decided that railroads can not automatically increase their freight rates 10 per cent because the so-called Cummins amendment to the rate law, which becomes effective June 3rd, will prohibit any limitation of the liability of a carrier to a shipper. The carriers' contention that they were entitled to an increase because of this amendment was based largely on the ground that their tariffs now on file provide one rate when the usual bill of lading is used and a 10 per cent higher rate when a shipper rejects that bill and insists on one with unlimited liability.

"Applying correct rules of interpretation," says the Commission, "the Cummins amendment does not automatically bring into effect the increased rates. There is nothing in the expressed terms of this act or in the history of this legislation that shows any intent or purpose on the part of Congress to affect in any degree the existing rates charged by carriers for transportation of property. The lawful rates on file at this time, therefore, are the rates providing for the limited liability."

The Commission declares experience may prove the railroad should be allowed increases on commodities where risks are increased and that it has been shown there is need for a revision of bills of lading.

The report makes it clear that the commission does not approve the plan of Southern roads to increase rates on certain commodities—amounting to possibly 70 per cent of their total traffic—by changing a rule in their classifications. It says there is no propriety in attaching "unreasonable rates to one commodity for the purpose of compensating for additional risk in transportation of another."

WILLIAM BARNES ENTERS DENIALS

Emphatically Denies Many Statements of Roosevelt.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 14.—This was William Barnes' day in court. The former chairman of the Republican state committee spent two hours on the witness stand in his libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt contradicting wholly or in part various portions of the Colonel's testimony and given his own version of several incidents described by the former President of the United States.

Barnes swore that he did not talk to Colonel Roosevelt about the franchise tax bill prior to its passage. He denied emphatically that he had asked the then Governor of New York not to sign the bill. With equal emphasis he denied he had ever told Colonel Roosevelt that men identified with big business interests contributed to both parties to gain protection and that if it was not given them they would cease to contribute; that he had urged the reappointment of Lou Payne as state superintendent of insurance, and that he had discussed legislative and executive matters with Colonel Roosevelt on "many occasions." He said he did none of these or a half a dozen other things the colonel described him as having done.

Considered Roosevelt Leader.

He did, however, declare by inference that he considered Colonel Roosevelt the leader of the Republican party in the ETAOIm ....wiCETAOI IOA in this state from 1906 to 1910. And he said that he visited the White House in 1908 at the request of the President and was urged to see August Belmont about the race track bill. He quoted Colonel Roosevelt as saying that the bill must be defeated. This was the bill which failed of passage because of the vote of State Senator Grattan, who according to previous testimony changed his mind about voting for the bill.

As for the statement accredited to him by Colonel Roosevelt that the people "were not fit to govern themselves," Barnes declared he never said it.

During the day Barnes painted in words a picture of his political career and gave his ideas about political organization. In this connection he said: "I told Mr. Roosevelt as I have told a great many others, that if we were to maintai nin this country a system of party government, organization was necessary, that no government could come to achievement unless organized.

"They must have leaders so they do not move at all, and no party movement or any other movement can be progressive unless it is financed by those whose hearts are in the work and are willing to give to the cause for which they stand. No organization can succeed unless attended by men who are willing to give their entire time to work. I have said, as I say now that no party, whatever it be—Republican, Democratic, Progressive, Prohibitionist, Socialist, Labor or Independent—can move forward without proper control and guidance."

Colonel Roosevelt seemed intensely interested in what his legal opponent had to say. Occasionally he took notes.

ALABAMA SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS PROHIBITION LAW

Newspapers Cannot Carry Whiskey Advertising—Ban on Foreign Papers.

Montgomery(Ala., May 13.—The Alabama Supreme court today upheld the Denson anti-liquor advertising law which recently was passed by the legislature over Governor Henderson's veto and which has been the subject of several test cases. The law bars liquor advertisement from the columns of all newspapers of the state and also prevents the circulation in the state of foreign papers carrying such advertisements.

ALL ENEMY ALIENS WILL BE INTERNED

Premier Asquith Tells the House of Commons.

London, May 13.—Premier Asquith told the house of commons today that all aliens of enemy countries of military age would be interned and that this applied to those naturalized, against whom there was suspicion, and that others would be repatriated. This seems to have satisfied those agitating for drastic action. As a result riots in London and provincial towns have largely subsided. Such rioting as did take place today and tonight was carried on by mobs of boys, girls and women, who were out for fun or bent on looting German shops, while men stood by laughing or encouraging their youthful imitators.

The police, strongly reinforced by special constables, were better able to handle the situation today.

Following the wild scenes of yesterday and last night some 500 or more active participants in attacks on German shops appeared in London's police court today, and the magistrates read them severe lectures and imposed heavy penalties, in most cases. Some of the most culpable were sentenced to jail at hard labor, sentences ranging from a month to four months. Others, mostly women, were fined. When men of military age appeared before the magistrates they were told sharply that the best way to get revenge on the Germans was to enlist.

It is notable that no complaints have been received of aliens suffering from personal injury. Many hundreds appeared at the American embassy and consulate today seeking protection but none showed signs of having been engaged in an encounter, but they desired compensation for the damage done their property and assurances that there would be no repetition of the attacks.

Must Pay for Damage.

Under English law taxpayers of localities where the shops were wrecked and goods destroyed must pay compensation for the damage done in the riots, so that in many cases the very people who took part in the demonstrations will have to pay their share.

At Southend the authorities took a more serious view of the case, as many of the men arrested were prominent citizens who were angered by the recent Zeppelin raids.

They were remanded for a week and heavy bail was demanded.

Naturalized Germans, Austrians and Turks were busy today signing declarations representing their oaths of allegiance to Great Britain. In all the memorials the men reaffirm their oath of allegiance and express abhorrence of the German methods of warfare.

While Premier Asquith was telling the house of commons that the government had decided to intern or segregate subjects of enemy countries a meeting at the mansion house, called to "formulate a protest by the women of Great Britain and Ireland," adopted with enthusiasm a resolution demanding "steps to free the country from the menace of the alien enemy in our midst."

Lady Glanusk, in moving the resolution, said an astounding state of affairs had been disclosed in a letter which she had received from a Lusitania survivor, written at Kinsale.

"You can imagine my feelings on recovering consciousness," the letter ran, "to find that I was in a hotel run by a German."

The lord mayor presided at the meeting, said the women were right in seeking, while the soldiers were fighting, that their homes should be protected from the danger involved by the presence of so many German subjects in the country.

point of vantage from the enemy. In the afternoon strong French attacks on our front from Ablain to Neuville were repulsed with very heavy losses to the enemy. The village of Carency and the western part of Ablain, which are for the greater part included in the territory held by the French as a result of the operation on our foremost trenches between Neuville and Carency were, however, evacuated last night. Unfortunately on this occasion a number of our brave men and much material again were lost.

"After strong artillery preparations the enemy attacked our position between the Meuse and the Moselle last night. At Oroyp Des Carmes they succeeded in penetrating a section of our foremost trenches stretching over a width from 150 to 200 meters. After hand to hand fighting our positions were again cleared of all Frenchmen. A number of prisoners remained in our hands.

"Two French blockhouses on the western slope of Hartmans-Wellerkopf were destroyed by our fire.

"Eastern theatre of war:

"The situation is the same. The battle of Szawle, Russian Poland, is still undecided.

"Southeastern theatre of war:

"The army under General Von Mackenzen, in the course of its pursuit of the Russians yesterday on the lower Wisloka, took Kolbuezowa, northeast of Debica. Under the pressure of this advance the Russians retreated from their positions north of the Vistula. In this section the troops under General Colonel Von Woyrech, closely followed the enemy, penetrated as far as the region northwest of Kielce.

"In the Carpathians, Austro-Hungarian and German troops under General Von Linsingen conquered the hills east of the Upper Stry and took 3,650 men prisoners, as well as capturing six machine guns.

"At the present moment, while the armies under General Von Mackenzen are approaching the Przemysl fortress and the lower San it is possible to form an approximate idea of the booty taken. In the battle of Tarnow and Gorlice and in the battles during the pursuit of these armies we have so far taken 103,500 Russian prisoners, 69 cannon and 255 machine guns. In these figures the booty taken by the allied troops fighting in the Carpathians and north of the Vistula is not included. This amounts to a further 40,000 prisoners."

Washington, May 13.—W. W. Kirkland, a brigadier general in the Confederate army is dead here, aged 82.

He was a native of Hillsboro, N. C., and graduated at West Point in 1852. He served as aide to General Hardee and was promoted for bravery at the battle of Winchester. Burial will be at Shepherdstown, W. Va.

IMPRESSED WITH WILMINGTON

Mr. Louis M. Ginsburg, of Atlanta, Sees Many Signs of Progress.

Mr. Louis M. Ginsburg, a well known newspaper man of Atlanta, Ga., who is to deliver an address at the Young Men's Hebrew Association on Sunday night, arrived in the city yesterday. He was here three years ago and was agreeably surprised to find what a remarkable growth the city has made since that time. He is Southern correspondent of the Jewish Leader, a daily paper of New York city, and his work takes him all over the South. While, of course, having lived in Atlanta practically all of his life he does not place any city ahead of that he does not hesitate to say that Wilmington is the best town in North Carolina. He declared that it is even a better town than Charlotte.

Mr. Ginsburg will have for his subject Sunday night, "The Progress of the Jew in the South." He has been representing New York Jewish newspapers in the South for the last 16 years and is particularly well equipped to discuss this theme.

Mr. Ginsburg in his capacity as newspaper correspondent attended the trial of Leo M. Frank, the young Atlanta Jew, who is now under sentence to be hanged, and declares that he is innocent. He has written a book on the case which will be published soon. He has chosen as the title, "The Dreyfus of America." He says that everywhere he has gone he has found sentiment practically unanimous in favor of Frank.

NEWBERN HIGHS DEFEATED BY RALEIGH HIGH SCHOOL

Interesting Shut-Out Game Played on Newbern Diamond.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., May 13.—The local highs went down in defeat at the hands of the Raleigh high school team at Ghent park this afternoon in a game of baseball that was hard-fought by both contestants all the way through.

The visitors succeeded in putting a man across the plate in the first, eighth and ninth innings while the locals were let down without scoring a man.

Both teams played an exceptionally good game and the battery work of both was the best that has been seen on the local diamond this season. Weathers, pitching for Raleigh, struck out ten men and allowed only five hits. Scales struck out eight men and allowed four hits.

ed in case of war.

A great crowd greeted Gabriel D'Annunzio, the poet whose advocacy of war has won him popularity, when he arrived in Rome today. It was his first visit to this city since he left Italy several years ago on a self-imposed exile. The crush at the railway station became so great that many windows were smashed.

TEXT OF AMERICAN DEMANDS SENT TO GERMANY PUBLISHED

ent war and the measures adopted by their adversaries in seeking to cut Germany off from all commerce, to adopt methods of retaliation which go much beyond the ordinary methods of warfare at sea, in the proclamation of a war zone from which they have warned neutral ships to keep away. This government has already taken occasion to inform the imperial German government that it cannot admit the adoption of such measures or such a warning of danger to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights of American ship masters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality; and that it must hold the imperial German government to a strict accountability for any infringement of those rights, intentional or incidental. It does not understand the imperial German government to question those rights. It assumes, on the contrary, that the imperial government accept, as of course, the rule that the lives of non-combatants, whether they be of neutral citizenship or citizens of one of the nations at war, cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unarmed merchantman, and recognise also as all other nations do, the obligation to take the usual precatuion of visit and search to ascertain whether a suspected merchantman is in fact of belligerent nationality or is in fact carrying contraband of war under a neutral flag.

Submarines Cannot Be Used.

"The government of the United States therefore, desires to call the attention of the imperial German government with the utmost earnestness to the fact that the objection to their present method of attack against the trade of their enemies lies in the practical impossibility of employing submarines in the destruction of commerce without disregarding these rules of fairness, reason, justice and humanity, which all modern opinion regards as imperative. It is practically impossible for the officers of a submarine to visit a merchantman at sea and examine her papers and cargo. It is practically impossible for them to make a prize of her; and, if they cannot put a prize crew on board of her, they cannot sink her without leaving her crew and all on board of her to the mercy of the sea in her small boats. These facts it is understood the imperial German government frankly admit. We are informed that in the instances of which we have spoken time enough for even that poor measure of safety was not given, and in at least two of the cases cited not so much as a warning was received. Manifestly submarines can not be used against merchantmen, as the last few weeks have shown, with an inevitable violation of many sacred principles of justice and humanity.

"American citizens act within their indisputable rights in taking their ships and in traveling wherever their legitimate business calls them upon the high seas and exercise those rights in what has been the well justified confidence that their lives will not be endangered by acts done in clear violation of universally acknowledged international obligations, and certainly in the confidence that their own government will sustain them in the exercise of their rights.

Warnings No Excuse.

"There was recently published in the newspapers of the United States, I regret to inform the imperial German government, a formal warning purporting to come from the imperial German embassy at Washington, addressed to the people of the United States and stating, in effect, that any citizen of the United States who exercised his righ of free travel upon the seas would do so at his peril if his journey should take him within the zone of waters within which the imperial German navy was using submarines against the commerce of Great Britain and France, notwithstanding the respectful but very earnest protest of his government, the government of the United States. I do not refer to this for the purpose of calling the attention of the imperial German government at this time to the surprising irregularity of a communication from the imperial German embassy at Washington addressed to the people of the United States through the newspapers, but only for the purpose of pointing out that no warning that an unlawful and inhumane act will be committed can possibly be accepted as an excuse or palliation for that act or is an abatement of the responsibility for its commission.

"Long acquainted as this government has been with the character of the imperial German government and with the high principles of equity by which they have in the past been actuated and guided, the government of the United States cannot believe that the commanders of the vessels which committed these acts of lawlessness did so, except under a misapprehension of the orders issued by the imperial German naval authorities. It takes it for granted that, at least within the practical possibilities of every such case, the commanders even of submarines were expected to do nothing that would involve the lives of non-combatants or the safety of neutral ships even at the cost of failing of their object of capture or destruction. It confidently expects therefore, that the imperial German government will disavow the acts of which the government of the United States complains, that they will make reparation so far as reparation is possible for injuries which are without measure, and that they will take immediate steps to prevent the recurrence of anything so obviously subversive of the principles of warfare for which the imperial German government have in the past so wisely and so firmly contended.

Expect Prompt Action.

"The government and people of the United States look to the imperial German government for just, prompt and enlightened action in this vital matter with the greater confidence because the United States and Germany are bound together not only by special ties of friendship but also by the explicit stipulation of the treaty of 1828 by the United States and the Kingdom of Prussia.

"Expressions of regret and offers of reparation in case of the destruction of neutral ships sunk by mistake, while they may satisfy international obligations, if no loss of life results, cannot justify or excuse a practice, the natural and necessary effect is to subject neutral nations and neutral persons to new and immeasurable risks.

"The imperial German government will not expect the government of the United States to omit any word or any act necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States and her citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment.

"BRYAN."

Three Days' Preparation.

After three days of preparation by President Wilson, with the assistance of his cabinet the document was finally dispatched shortly before noon today. It is expected to reach American Ambassador Gerard late today for presentation tonight or tomorrow morning at the German foreign office. A copy of the note was delivered to Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador tonight by the State Department tonight as a courtesy and copies were similarly cabled to the American ambassadors at London, Paris and Petrograd for their own information.

Publication of the text was arranged for by Secretary Bryan, who announced that the document was to be released for use in editions of morning newspapers reaching the American public not earlier than 5 a. m. Friday morning. Special restrictions were imposed on foreign correspondents who were not permitted to cable it until the same hour that it reached the people of the United States. The purpose of these arrangements, it was explained a the State Department, was to prevent diplomatic embarrassment, such as might arise if the text reached the British or French governments through publication in foreign newspapers before it actually reached the German government.

Interest in Phraseology.

Interest today was centered almost entirely here on the exact phraseology of the note, for while its essential features were known and widely discussed the precise and meaningful language of diplomatic usage were awaited to indicate the position and purposes of the United States government in connection with German's submarine warfare on merchant ships.

Although the German embassy announced in a statement that it had no information as to the reply the German government would make to the American note, tension over the situation will be diminished somewhat in Austro-German quarters because of the belief that Germany being desirous of preserving friendly relations with the United States, probably would find some ways of meeting the American government's position without developing a crisis. It was admitted by well informed diplomats that this was the hope of German officials here, although on account of difficulties in communication they professed to be uninformed as to the views of the German government.

Count von Bernstorff took occasion to communicate to the State Department a formal denial of published reports that the embassy here had intimated that Germany would in her answer refuse to comply with the requests of the United States.
